There are so many ways to help, which enable Arohanui Hospice to provide free palliative care to people in our community.

Fundraising for Arohanui Hospice

The raising of funds is crucial to Arohanui Hospice. With generous support from the community, sponsors, trusts and corporate donors, Arohanui Hospice is able to provide care and comfort to hundreds of patients and their families each year.

The hospice is partly funded by the Ministry of Health, via MidCentral District Health Board. But each year the people of Manawatu, Horowhenua, Rangitikei and Tararua make up a massive shortfall in funds, which ensures we can continue to provide all our services free of charge.

How can you help raise money for Arohanui Hospice?

There are a number of ways you can help.

Events

Take part in our annual appeal week, come and play golf with us, or dress up and attend the popular annual black tie dinner. We hold a variety of events throughout the year—check out the event calendar on our website.

You could invite people to your home to a 'Time to Remember' event, or simply collect donations for Arohanui Hospice in lieu of birthday or wedding gifts.

Remember to contact us prior to ask for help.

Regular giving

Another way to show your support is by joining our regular giving programme. By becoming a regular giver you enable Arohanui Hospice to plan more effectively for the future. A regular payment allows you to plan your finances and spread your giving over time. You can be assured that any donation, small or large, will be put to good use.

Please contact us to obtain a direct debit authority form.

Farming for Hospice

Since its inception in 1994, local farmers and supporters have raised and fattened thousands of beef cattle to raise money for Arohanui Hospice. The Farming for Hospice programme aims to raise at least 10% of the hospice's annual fundraising budget.

HOW DOES THE PROGRAMME WORK?

An Arohanui Hospice representative buys beef cattle, which are delivered to a farmer who has agreed to graze the cattle. When the cattle have reached slaughter weight, arrangements are made to have the cattle killed, and Arohanui Hospice receives the proceeds.

While the emphasis has been on beef, support from dairy farmers is increasing. As dairy farmers cull cows and send them to the works, they can also donate the proceeds to Arohanui Hospice.

Arohanui Hospice invites farmers and lifestyle block holders to contribute to Farming for Hospice by donating a share of proceeds when they send any animals to the works, or sell produce.

Bequests

By leaving a gift in your Will you are helping to ensure hospice care for others. You might like to leave a specific sum of money in your Will, or an item of property or jewellery. If you would like to discuss leaving a bequest in your Will, our Chief Executive welcomes your call.

About us

Since 1991 Arohanui Hospice in Palmerston North has been providing specialist palliative care for patients who have a life-limiting illness. Care provided by Arohanui Hospice enables patients to achieve the best possible quality of life, and provides support to their families.

Care is free of charge and provided wherever people need it – at the hospice inpatient unit, at home or an alternative comfortable environment.

The services provided include support of the patient in the community, inpatient care, respite care, symptom management 24-hour advice, a pharmacist, outpatient clinics, day procedures, an activities-based day programme, social work services, family support, pastoral and bereavement support.

The majority of patients cared for each year by Arohanui Hospice have cancer. However, we also care for people with non-malignant conditions such as motor neurone disease, respiratory disease and heart disease.

Volunteers take care of many of the housekeeping tasks essential in keeping the inpatient unit running smoothly—cleaning, delivering morning teas, washing dishes, doing laundry, gardening and providing floral arrangements. They also work in reception, administration, the hospice shops, and help with the day-stay programme, the quarterly
