

“My experience was the reason I wanted to give back to Arohanui Hospice, so they can continue the wonderful work that they do. The nurses and doctors, and the other services provided, are truly amazing.”

Love received, love returned.

Giving back. Giving aroha.

How you can return care and aroha to your local community.

No matter how big or small, your monthly donation provides us with certainty of care in the future, and means our services can continue to be provided at no charge to patients and their families.

- Your regular donation will help us to provide excellent palliative care for more than 1000 people with life-limiting illnesses in our region, every year.
- With your on-going support, we can also continue to help our patients' families, whānau and carers with bereavement counselling and workshops.
- It means our experienced community palliative care nursing team can be there when families need them most: making more than 270 home visits every month.
- It enables our care to reach far beyond Arohanui Hospice: to educate and support medical professionals in best practice palliative care across the region.
- Above all, it means our services will continue to be accessible and at no charge to everyone in our region, irrespective of who they are or where they live.

Your chance to join a very special group of supporters.

We invite you to join the Aroha Givers Club, a group of generous people who support Arohanui Hospice with regular giving – amazing, caring members of our local community who are committed to ensuring the future of our much needed services remain at no charge to patients and their families.

Regular giving not only helps those whose lives are ending, but also those who carry on: family, whānau and carers. Your invaluable, on-going support means we can continue to serve our community, so that people with life-limiting illnesses can live well until they die ... with empathy, compassion and above all, with aroha.

Our regular givers are our lifeblood: will you join our Aroha Givers Club and give back to your local community?

Would you like to...

- ✓ Give back in a meaningful way by supporting those with life limiting illnesses and their families at a time when it truly matters?
- ✓ Give back, knowing your funds will stay within our community to care for your loved ones, friends, neighbours and colleagues if and when needed?
- ✓ Know that you're helping us to plan for the future and continue to support our community during the next 30 years and beyond?
- ✓ Give back by scheduling your payments to suit you and spread your giving over time?

If you said 'yes' to one or more of the above points, please join the Aroha Givers Club today.

Both Robyn's father and father-in-law received hospice care, so she knows how invaluable it can be.

Giving monthly is a painless way to donate: you barely notice it coming out," says Robyn.

ROBYN'S STORY

"I want to help Hospice continue the wonderful work they do."

Robyn Naylor is a regular giver to Arohanui Hospice because she has lost two very special people in her life: both her father and father-in-law died in hospice care. "My first experience was with my Dad who died at home under the care of hospice," she says. "I remember the nurse saying that it's an absolute privilege to care for someone at that stage in their life."

Robyn's father-in-law, Hugh, was under Arohanui Hospice care when he died. "Arohanui Hospice was wonderful. My father-in-law was able to stay at home and receive the level of care he needed. The wrap-around support made all the difference – and Arohanui Hospice is like a home away from home."

"My experience was the reason I wanted to give back to Arohanui Hospice, so they can continue the wonderful work that they do. The nurses and doctors, and the other services provided, are truly amazing."

Robyn started regular giving in 2010 and has donated every month since then. "Giving monthly is a painless way to donate: you barely notice it coming out," she says. "It makes it easier to budget, plus you get one-third of that back at the end of the year. And it's so important for Hospice. Knowing that the money is coming in helps them plan ahead and continue to help people when it matters most."

Our commitment to you...

Your regular commitment will touch so many lives: those with life-limiting illness, their loved ones, the wider community and the medical community. In return, we make this commitment to you:

“It wasn’t until I needed help to care for my wife who became bedridden as a result of advanced M.S. that I realised what our Arohanui Hospice provides. The level of support and care given to Elaine was outstanding and allowed her to remain at home in a comfortable and supportive environment for over 5 years. For that I will always be grateful. Contributing monthly is a way of ensuring the Hospice team is able to continue giving practical care and assistance to whoever has a need in our community.”
